Dairy farming is the keeping of livestock mainly for milk and milk products. It is practised in both small scale and large scale. Small scale farming is keeping livestock in small pieces of land. These farmers keep few animals depending with their ability to feed them.

Dairy farming is important in our country. The farmers sell excess milk to factory. They use the money to improve their living standards. The milk that is taken to the factory is processed. It produces other products like yoghurt, cheese, butter and ghee. Some of the milk is exported to other countries. This in turn helps the country to earn foreign exchange.

People get employment in farms, factories and also to transport the milk. Those employed pay their taxes to the government. Through the taxes, roads, Schools, and hospitals are built. It is good to do dairy farming.
